

SAVE Hindu Temples

<http://savetemples.org>

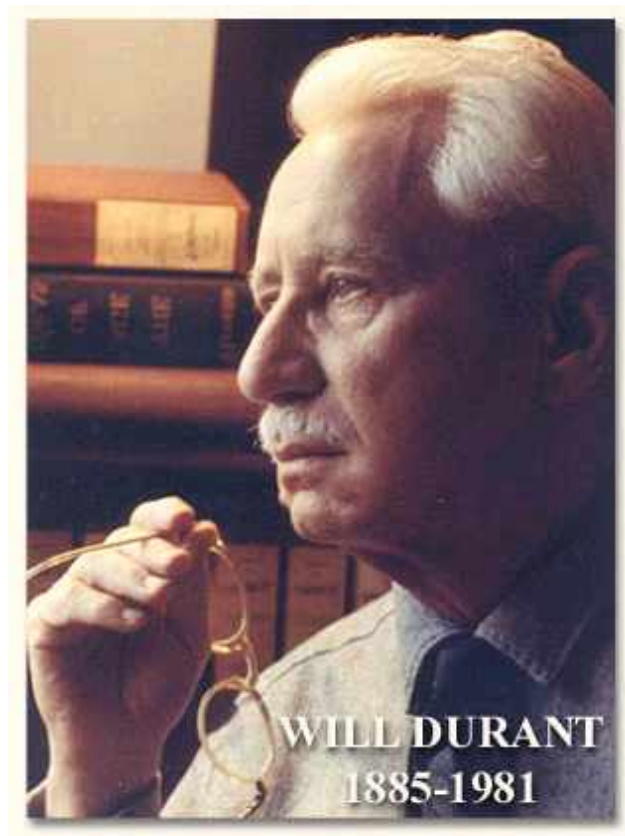

Hinduism as I know it entirely satisfies my soul, fills my whole being ... When doubts haunt me, when disappointments stare me in the face, and when I see not one ray of light on the horizon, I turn to the Bhagavad Gita ...

-- Mahatma Gandhi

After a study of some forty years and more of the great religions of the world, I find none so perfect , none so scientific, none so philosophical and none so spiritual that the great religion known by the name of Hinduism. Make no mistake, without Hinduism, India has no future. Hinduism is the soil in to which India's roots are stuck and torn out of that she will inevitably wither as a tree torn out from its place. And if Hindus do not maintain Hinduism who shall save it? If India's own children do not cling to her faith who shall guard it. India alone can save India and India and Hinduism are one.

— Annie Besant

Perhaps in return for conquest, arrogance and spoliation, India (hinduism) will teach us the tolerance and gentleness of the mature mind, the quiet content of the unacquisitive soul, the calm of the understanding spirit, and a unifying, a pacifying love for all living things.

— Will Durant

“The apparent multiplication of gods is bewildering at the first glance, but you soon discover that they are the same GOD. There is always one uttermost God who defies personification. This makes Hinduism the most tolerant religion in the world, because its one transcendent God includes all possible gods. In fact Hinduism is so elastic and so subtle that the most profound Methodist, and crudest idolater, are equally at home with it.”

--- George Bernard Shaw

"To my mind', Hindu religion is truer than any other religion, because it never conquered. Because it never shed blood, because its mouth always shed on all, words of blessing, of peace, words of love and sympathy. It is here and here alone that the ideals of toleration were first preached. And it is here and here alone that toleration and sympathy become practical; it is theoretical in every other country; it is here and here alone, that the Hindu builds mosques for the Mohammedans and churches for the Christians." -- Swami Vivekananda

In 3000 years of our history, people from all over the world have come and invaded us, captured our lands conquered our minds. From Alexander onwards. The Greeks, the Portuguese, the British, the French, the Dutch, all of them came and looted us, took over what was ours. Yet we have not done this to any other nation. We have not conquered anyone. We have not grabbed their land, their culture, their history and tried to enforce our way of life on them. Why? Because we respect the freedom of others. --President Dr. Abdul Kalam

HINDUISM UNDER THREAT

A Hindu temple is the focus for all aspects of everyday life in Hindu community - religious, cultural, educational and social. The temple is also the place where one can transcend the world of man.

In India which is the home of Hinduism, Hindu temples are controlled by State Governments violating the fundamental rights defined in the Indian constitution. The State Governments have enacted Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Act to manage the Hindu institutions whereas Christian and Muslim institutions are left untouched.

Successive State Governments all over India have been consistently mismanaging, misusing and encroaching our temple property.

Govt. Control of temples violates the Indian constitution:

- 1) The Karnataka High Court has struck down the Karnataka Hindu Religious Institutions and Charitable Endowment Act, 1997 terming it unconstitutional, stating that the legislation violated Articles 14, 25 and 26 of the Constitution which provided for right to equality, freedom of conscience, freedom of profession, practice and propagation of religion, and also the freedom to manage the religious affairs.
- 2) The Allahabad High Court has directed the Central and UP authorities to prepare a scheme for constituting a Board for Hindu religious organizations on the pattern of the UP Muslim Waqf Board. Both these vital verdicts lend credence to the argument that the Govt. must not meddle in temples and endowments. This decree by the said judicial body has been widely acclaimed as a welcome development.
- 3) Govt. must also abide by the Law passed by the Indian Parliament in 1991, specifically legislating that -"the status of religious places, as on August 15, 1947 shall be retained," and restore temples and their endowments to August, 1947 status. Moreover, due to widespread misuse of power by states, temples must be taken out of the Concurrent list of the Constitution by an amendment, thus preventing state authorities from meddling in religious affairs.

(see Appendix 7 for relevant news items)

Many State Governments have been violating the Constitution, suppressing human right of religious freedom for Hindus and demolishing religious infrastructure against Hindu interests.

The actions against Hindu institutions can be divided into two classes:

1. Gross Mismanagement & Corruption
2. Ideological reasons – Religious Persecution and political vendetta.

Temples of Andhra Pradesh under Govt. control are victims of mismanagement and corruption for many decades but the recent events indicate another dimension i.e., ideological, which have dangerous repercussions across India, professing to be a secular country.

YSR Crusade against Hinduism

Since coming to power, the Chief Minister Y.S. Rajasekhara Reddy has been engaging in systematic and planned destruction of Hindu Institutions and Hinduism. He has engaged the whole state administration to that task. His Government which is supposed to be a protector has become a destroyer threatening the very existence of Hinduism. His family members are active partners in these efforts.

From mismanagement and corruption perspective, his government is engaging in Demolition of temples, allowing illegal encroachment and massive sale of temples lands worth many crores of rupees for grabbing at throw away prices and using the revenues for Govt schemes, taking over and virtually looting the rich temples and mutts. Even the most sacred Tirupati temple is not spared, nay specially targeted. It is deeply distressing that the Govt. took over temples on assumed allegations of corruption, but do not provide transparent management or make public disclosures.

His Govt. attempted to take over 5 out of 7 hills of sacred Tirumala temple for churches and tourism. Attempted to sell thousands of crores worth temple lands in Godavari districts for Indiramma scheme. His son Jagan blew up a temple and his brother Vivekananda Reddy encroached upon Gurukul trust land worth multiple crores. He is alleged to use TTD money for hockey tournament in his parents name. His Govt. even allowed the demolition of 10 temples for a Golf Course.

From ideological perspective, his Govt is abetting massive religious conversions in the vicinity of all major temples and other Hindu institutions. It is making it difficult to practice Hinduism by acts such as 50% bus surcharge on Maha Sivarathri day and selectively removing most important Hindu religious holidays such as Sri Rama Navami from Govt. holiday list. It is undermining religious character of Hindu Institutions by appointment of individuals who are bent upon destroying Hinduism such as rabid evangelical Veena Noble Das as Vice Chancellor of Padmavathi University whose conversion activities is alleged to have caused death of Hindu student who was forced to convert. YSR is planning to give her honorary seat in AP Legislative Council.

Endowment Department allows large Christian prayer meetings in temple lands with advertisements for these meetings right inside the temples with the goal of converting Hindus.

While State Govt. Endowment department diverts up to 85% of temple money non-temple purposes, the temples priests are allowed forced to starve. More than 40,000 Priests are given salary below Rs.500 /- Month and over 3,000 Priest are paid only Rs. 400 /- for the whole year.

The brazenness of his Govt. activities can be witnessed by a police station right in the capital city of Hyderabad which would not even entertain filing a case until Bible is read and has bible teachings written on all over the walls of the police station.

The same YSR Govt. which is destroying Hinduism in all of its aspects is making all efforts to support Christianity and Muslim religions as vote banks. It is providing funds for state treasury to build and renovate churches and mosques. The Govt. which placed surcharge on Hindu pilgrims on Maha Sivarathri day, pays 12,000 Rs/- per pilgrim for Haj trip to Mecca for Muslims and considering proposals to pay for Christians to travel to Bethlehem. The Govt. which never touches the funds of Christian and Muslim Institutions relentlessly siphons away Hindu Institutions funds.

In a country known for its religious tolerance, where Christians and Hindus have lived harmoniously for more than thousand years, actions of the present Govt. is creating communal tensions in villages, and across the state.

Our forefathers and leaders had a grand vision for a country that is religiously tolerant and where every religion would survive and thrive. YSR was voted to power by the Hindu majority community. However, he is misusing his power and engaging in a relentless crusade against Hinduism because of his personal faith.

Wake up! Hindu Identity of India is under serious threat.

Unless the country is protected, Dharma cannot be protected, and unless Dharma is protected, the country cannot be protected.Also, protect the Dharmi to protect Dharma.

And remember always: Hindu vote is sacred; never barter it away. In fact, this should be our refrain, nay a constant campaign all over India, at this critical juncture.Further, we should demand follow-up action on the 'Tirupati Declaration' (July 15, 2006).

The following are the three cardinal Articles of this Historic Declaration:

1) We Hindus assembled here (in Tirupati) declare that we do not support, directly or indirectly, any group, institution, religion, media, or political force, which preaches, practices or works against Hindu Dharma in this country;

2) We appeal to all the Hindus in this country and elsewhere to subscribe to and support this declaration, the Tirupati Declaration;

3) We want all the Hindu religious endowments to be managed by Hindu bodies, and not by the government. We want the secular government to release all religious endowments from its hold –

DETAILS OF YSR GOVT' s Anti-Hindu ACTIONS

This sections is divided into 6 categories

1. Intolerance towards Hindu Culture.
2. Curtailing Religious Freedom for Hindus.
3. YSR Family' s involvement in Anti-Hindu Acts.
4. Impoverishing the temples and priests.
5. Encroachment and sale of temple lands & property.
6. Promoting Christian Conversion Activity.

Intolerance towards Hindu culture

50% Bus Surcharge on Hindu pilgrims on Maha Sivarathri Day (Eenadu, February 16, 2007)

Citizens of independent India are aware of subsidies to pilgrims on buses and trains, whereas YSR Government imposed a surcharge of 50% on bus fare on pilgrims visiting Lord Shiva temples on Shivaratri day in February 2007. The lame explanation given by the Government was that buses might return empty. The Government failed to provide any empirical evidence to substantiate this claim though Government has been running special buses on such occasions for many years. . The hollowness of the claim was stated in Indian media who pointed out devotees who visit a temple on a special festival return on the next day thereby buses by filling the buses on both the trips.

If Government wanted to minimize risk why they did not they sell a round-trip ticket (two-way ticket) at regular fare instead of charging a surcharge on buses which are used primarily by poor and middle class? Would the AP Government act similarly in case of Christian and Muslim festivals? The same Government pays for Haj trips to Muslims for trips to Mecca and considering paying for trips to Bethlehem. Why are Hindus treated as second class citizens?

Eliminating important Hindu Festivals (e.g., Sri Rama Navami) as Holidays (Andhra Jyothy April 5, 2007)

AP Government seems to be systematically eliminating Hindu festivals as holidays. Recently in April, 2007 Sri Rama Navami was deleted from the list of holidays for financial institutions citing limitations in negotiable instruments act whereas a few days later the same act was relaxed to declare holidays on B R Ambedkar' s birthday and Babu Jagjivan Ram' s birthday as they serve the political interests.

Appointment of TTD chairman who are atheists or insensitive to Hindus (many news reports, Justice Bhikshapati report)

For the post of Chairman of a large temple such as Tirumala, Government usually appoints an individual who has knowledge and respect for Hinduism. The present Government appointed Mr. B Karunakar Reddy, an avowed atheist and committed communist to manage Tirumala-Tirupathi despite opposition from public and Hindu leaders. Is it not Government's intolerance and insensitiveness towards religious feelings of Hindus? The present TTD administration is promoting Mother Teresa as brand ambassador of TTD's social services. Mother Teresa though known for her service is also known for mass converting poor Hindus to Christianity.

(see Appendix 1 for all the related news items)

Curtailing Religious freedom for Hindus

All the State and Central Governments are diluting their role in the administration and management of variety of institutions such as Public sector companies, Power, Industrial parks, service activities for better administration. Hindu institutions seem to be only institutions feeling an ever increasing grip over their management with the threat of takeover from Government.

Panel submits report on Chilukur temple (attempts to take over Chilukur temple in spite of stiff opposition from devotees)

(The Hindu August 24, 2006)

HYDERABAD: The three-member P.V.R.K.Prasad Committee constituted to look into the controversy regarding the proposed takeover of the Chilkur Balaji temple by the Endowments Department, submitted its report to the Government on August 15.

The Government constituted the expert committee after devotees resisted the move of the Endowments Department to take over the Chilkur Balaji temple. The devotees had even moved the Supreme Court.

YSR Endowment Minister declares the take over of 181 Mutts (Govt. eyeing cash rich mutts) (Deccan Chronicle, 12th March 2007)

Cuddapah, March 12: The Endowment Minister Shri. Diwakar Reddy A.P. State Govt. has said that the Andhra Government will take over all Temples within the state under its control. Speaking to Reporters here Mr. Reddy said the Government will take a final decision only after consultations with Endowment Board After Ugadi.

Stop meddling in religious affairs' (Seer warns YSR Govt.) (The Hindu Nov 24, 2006)

Seer visits Hathiramji Mutt

Tirupati, Nov 24, 2006: Swamy Swaroopanandendra Saraswathi of Sarada Peetham, Visakhapatnam, advised the Government to keep its hands off the administration of mutts, peethams and other religious and spiritual centres.

Devotees urged to toe `civil disobedience' line

(The Hindu, April 23, 2007)

Temple panel sets June 8 deadline for passing of Endowment Amendment Act:

- Asks pilgrims not to put donations in hundis
- "Don't buy tickets for sevas from temples"

YSR family' s involvement in anti- Hindu acts

YSR Son Jagan blows up Hindu Temple

(Andhra Jyothy, 8 September 2006)

YS Jaganmohan Reddy, the son of YS Rajasekhar Reddy using crude bombs blew up age old Sunkulamma Temple in Obulapuram village in Anantapur district. Despite repeated protests by public and public representatives no action was taken.

Tirumala (TTD) money for Hockey Tournament in YSR's parent's names (Eenadu, 20 January 2007)

According to TTD' s rules temple money can be used only for promoting Hindu religious activity. The present TTD chairman, Mr B Karunakar Reddy, an appointee of YSR seems to find a valid reason in financially supporting YS Jayamma- YS RajaReddy memorial hockey tournament. Though the media reported this incident YSR did not seem to have reimbursed the TTD back the devotees money.

YSR Brother YS Vivekananda Reddy encroaches Gurukul lands worth crores of rupees (The Hindu Mar 09, 2007)

YS Vivekananda Reddy, an MP and brother of YSR built a palatial building on Gurukul lands near Madhapur and leased it to a software company. The Government remains to be a mute spectator.

Impoverishing the temples and priests

Temple priests starving

(Deccan Chronicle, October 6, 2004)

An office boy (peon) in AP Government takes home a salary of Rs. 10,000/month whereas the A V Ramana Dikshitulu, the head priest of Tirumala temple who happens to be the highest paid priest under AP Government earns Rs. 200/day (Rs. 6,000/month if he works without a holiday). Many temple priests earn Rs. 500/month. This situation is forcing many archakas to abandon the profession thereby leaving the temples priestless.

Many Temples cannot afford even daily Pooja, lamp or Prasadam

(The Hindu, April 23, 2007)

Many temples across Andhra Pradesh cannot even afford to have daily pooja, lamp or prasadam. Bowing to protests from various devotee groups AP Government proposed a 'Dhoopa Deepa Naivedyam' scheme. The Government seems to be insincere in implementing this amendment as it referred to a select committee on April 9 thereby creating uncertainty.

Misuse of temple money (500 crores TTD money for Jala Yagnam) (JustAndhra.com Mar 22, 2006)

Devotees donate to temples for promoting Hindu religion and thought. The Government which manages these temples has been using the temple money for Government schemes. The State Government attempted to use TTD money to tune of 500 crores for Jala Yagnam. (Note: Govt. targets only Hindu devotees money and on contrary contributes to Mosques and Churches for repairs and renovation).

Temple lands taken over (Times of India, June 03, 2005)

State Governments including the previous ones under the pretext of industrialization, housing schemes etc. have been taking over temple lands at nominal rates.

Inability to protect temple lands (77,000 strong staff paid with 18% of temple income is unable to protect temples)

(Deccan Chronicle , April 8, 2006)

The endowments department is auctioning free and encroached lands claiming inability in protecting them for land mafia. The Government on one hand is claiming its inability in protecting temple property while on the other hand trying to takeover Hindu institutions managed by private trustees.

Lease mismanagement (Looting by leasing with below market rates)

(Eenadu, April 23, 2007)

The successive State Governments have been leasing temple property to people connected to politicians at rates far below the market rate. This situation is impoverishing the temples through meager returns.

HYDERABAD: A Division Bench of the High Court comprising Justice L. Narasimha Reddy and Justice Appa Rao on Tuesday restrained the Government from taking possession of the temple lands in the State in the name of house sites for the Indiramma scheme.

Bhadrachalam Lord Rama's lands for Polavaram victims

(Eenadu, April 2, 2007)

AP Government is giving away Bhadrachalam Lord Rama's lands to Polavaram victims. (NOTE: Govt. always targets Hindu Mandir lands and NEVER lands belonging to Muslim or Christian places of Worship).

Temple land lease scam in Andhra Pradesh

(Eenadu, April 23, 2007)

A temple in Tenali, Guntur (dist) owns a movie theater, it has been leased to some powerful people for last 30 years for Rs 30,000/- per year. They then subleased the same theatre for Rs. 13,000,00 per year. The above lease is about to expire, the current powerful lease holders are trying to continue the same lease without any auction with the help of a district minister. (continued in Appendix 5)

State puts divine property up for sale

(Deccan Chronicle , April 8, 2006)

Over 6,000 acres of urban lands belonging to the “ gods” are being put up for auction by the endowments department.

Temple lands ready for sale (3,000 acres in East Godavari District) (Deccan Chronicle, March 14, 2006)

Deccan Chronicle <http://www.deccan.com/> Rajahmundry, March 14:

The Endowments department will be going for an open auction of its lands to the tune of 3,000 acre from April to June in East Godavari district to safeguard temple lands and improve its sources of revenue.

<http://multifaith.blogspot.com/2006/09/could-jesus-have-sinned-faithwise.html>

Gods too are under threat from predatory land sharks, if one goes by the encroachment of temple lands in the State. Of the 4,20,028 acres of temple lands owned by the endowments department in Visakhapatnam, Kakinada, Guntur, Kurnool, Warangal and Hyderabad, 60,843.47 acres are under illegal occupation and 24,349.66 acres are caught in litigations of various kinds. Major temples whose lands are under encroachment include Jagannadhaswamy Balaji Mutt in Ramayapatnam (54 acres), Dharmatopu temple in Tangutur (5.17 acres), Sri Ramalingeswaraswamy temple of Chimakurthy (2.05 acres), and Sri Lakshmi Narasimhaswamy temple in Peddadornala (13.41 acres) ...

Promoting Christian conversion activity

Padmavathi University: A center for conversion (Hindu Student committed suicide due to forcible conversion)

(Eenadu, March 15, 2007)

Padmavathi University which received TTD funds has become a center for conversion under the Vice Chancellor Veena Nobel Das who is appointed by YSR. The Vice Chancellor gave hostel maintenance contracts to Christian agencies who in turn are using this opportunity to promote conversion. A student named Ms. Uma Maheshwari committed suicide due to forcible conversion. The state CID report also reported rampant conversions going on in the University directly involving teaching staff who threaten students with failure in examinations in case the students do not convert. In spite of all these incidents the YSR Government remains mute and patronizes Veena Nobel Das.

Conversion in police station in Hyderabad (Police will not register case until bible is read).

(Eenadu, April 11,2007)

Police stations are fast becoming hotbeds for Christian evangelical activity. Recently such incident was caught red handed by Indian media but the Government did not take any action against the police officer involved. This explains the State Government' s sympathetic attitude towards illegal and forced conversions.

What is Lord Ram's mistake? (Sri Rama Navami taken off Govt Holiday list)

Andhra Jyothy, April 5, 2007

Hyderabad, April 4 (online): The AP state Government's attitude in declaring holidays is causing controversy even among the party and official circles. The Government has declared holidays on April 5 for Babu Jagjivan Ram's birthday and April 14 for Ambedkar's birthday. The Chief secretary Harinarayan passed orders to this effect using negotiable instruments act. Many citizen associations and groups have earlier requested state Government to declare holiday to financial institutions on SriRama Navami using negotiable instruments act. Government rejected the demand claiming that under the act holiday count cannot exceed 18 in a given year. The AP Government also claimed that even in other states under negotiable instruments act the number of holidays cannot exceed 18 thereby silencing the people. But the new orders passed by Chief Secretary is raising the controversy. People are questioning YS Rajasekhara Reddy's Government how the act which was used the state Government to deny Hindus of their religious holiday is used by Government to further its political interests.

Justice Bhikshapathy's report on Christian evangelical activities in Tirumala

His Holiness Sri Vishweshwara Teertha of Pejawar Mutt, Udipi, requested Justice G. Bikshapathy, Justice K.B. Siddappa, former Judges of Andhra Pradesh High Court, Shri T.S. Rao, former Director General of Police, Andhra Pradesh, Dr. P. Geervani, former Vice-Chancellor of Padmavathi Mahila Vishwavidyalaya and Dr R. Srihari, former Vice-Chancellor of Dravidian University, Kuppam, to function as a fact-finding committee under the chairmanship of Justice G. Bikshapathy to ascertain the factual position as regards the activities of non-Hindu religious communities in Tirumala and Tirupathi.

Many people from Christian and Muslim communities were being employed in the TTD and some of the Hindu employees were even converted as Christians and they practice Christianity. About 40 families in Balaji Colony are Christians. They hold congregations and prayers on Sundays.

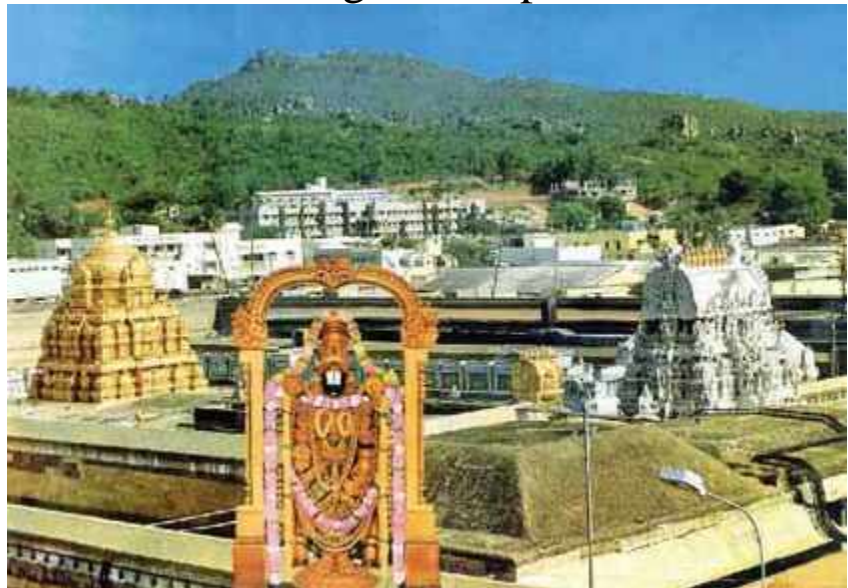

Only Hindus are to be appointed as employees in the TTD under the rule. However, the EO stated that for some period this was not followed with the result that some Muslim personnel came to be appointed. He further stated that steps are being taken to shift them to some other places gradually. Some employees in the TTD also profess Christianity and that in the police quarters also congregations and prayers are conducted regularly.

Discontinued the practice of garlanding the portraits of Lord

Venkateswara and Goddess Padmavathi everyday. Instead she kept a portrait of Jesus Christ and the Cross on her office table. She sends batches of students in the university buses to the church. It is also stated that in the Mahila University, the students are not allowed to have tilak on the forehead now-a-days and that students putting tilak are being discriminated.

Cow slaughter is taking place in down hill at Tirupathi near D.R. Mahal. The meat is being transported to Tirumala clandestinely. TTD Kalyana Mandapam at Nagalapuram is being used by the Christians for their prayer congregations and for performance of Christian marriages. Near Sree Rama and Siva Temple in Tirupathi, Christian prayers and propaganda take place by intercepting the Hindu devotees visiting the temples.

Sri Vishweshwara Teertha Swamiji of the Pejawar Mutt in response to startling disclosures of the planned evangelist activities in the holy Tirupathi temple premises announced that the leaders of Hindu mutts would meet in the temple complex on July 15 to discuss the activities of Christian missionaries, including attempts to convert Hindus in Tirumala and Tirupathi.

The Swami said it was disturbing that Christian missionaries had selected these places to carry out conversions. “ We will meet in Hyderabad on July 11 and then in Tirupathi on July 15 to chalk out our course of action,” he said. He was speaking after receiving a report from a fact-finding committee on this issue and sent by him to Tirupathi. The committee visited Tirumala and Tirupathi last month and held meetings with people there before preparing the report.

“As a Hindu saint, I am worried about the conversion activity taking place there, which was why I constituted the committee to look into the matter,” he said.

Shri D. Bheemasena Rao, the convenor of the Tirumala Tirupathi Samrakshana Samiti, said the July 15 meeting is likely to chalk out a mass awareness programme against conversion. Retired Andhra Pradesh Director General of Police, Shri T.S. Rao, who was a member of the fact-finding committee, said that 15 to 20 families in Tirumala have been converted in the past two years. He alleged that the vice-chancellors of the Padmavathi and Venkateshwara universities were using coercive methods to convert students to Christianity. “During public interactions, we were told that students who had enrolled for PhDs were being pressurised to convert. They have even been told that they would not get their doctorate unless they converted,” he added.

Dravida University’s former Vice-Chancellor Dr R. Srihari maintained that Christian missionaries had chosen some important places of worship in Andhra Pradesh as part of their strategy, which was why they had moved to Tirumala and Tirupathi for this exercise.

The following is the full text of the high-level committee's report:

The Committee found that members of the Christian community distributed religious pamphlets and copies of the Bible to the students who were returning after writing the EAMCET examinations conducted at various centres in Tirupathi in May 2006. Apart from other persons, who deposed before the Committee, this information was also disclosed by the son of Shri Prabhakara Acharya, Secretary of Vaikhanasa Ashram at Tirumala, who appeared for the EAMCET examinations. This activity of the Christians led to serious tense situation in Tirupathi. It was also revealed to the Committee that a large number of women and men, dividing themselves into several groups, distributed Christian religious material at various places including EAMCET centres. Some student organisations protested against these activities. Police had to intervene to maintain law and order.

On April 9, 2006, two Christians by name Balaraju (pastor) and Babu while coming down from Tirumala to Tirupathi in bus bearing No. AP 11Z 1130 distributed pamphlets propagating Christianity to the pilgrims travelling in that bus. One of the passengers Shri Arvind of Hyderabad complained the matter to the AV&SO Shri S. Sivananda Kishore, who after enquiry, gave a report on 11.4.2006 to the Vigilance and Security Officer, TTD. Basing on his report, a case in crime No. 8/2006 was registered against S. Balaraju and P. Babu, residents of Tirupathi and the police took up investigation. On the basis of the said complaint, Shri R. Sivananda Kishore (AV&SO, Sector-III, TTD, Tirumala), in his report recommended as follows:

“ In the light of instant case, the following recommendations may be considered to avoid recurrence of such incidents in future.

As per Rule 197 of APCHR and E Act 1987 the population living in Tirumala shall adhere to the norms and shall follow the sentiments of Hindu Religion. As such a thorough probe has to be taken up to verify the antecedents of non-Hindu employees who are working in TTD as well as government departments, i.e. police, fire services, commercial taxes, etc., who are staying in Tirumala. The identified employees and their families shall be shifted from Tirumala.

His Holiness Sri Vishweshwara Teertha of Pejawar Mutt, Udipi, requested Justice G. Bikshapathy, Justice K.B. Siddappa, former Judges of Andhra Pradesh High Court, Shri T.S. Rao, former Director General of Police, Andhra Pradesh, Dr. P. Geervani, former Vice-Chancellor of Padmavathi Mahila Vishwavidyalaya and Dr. R. Srihari, former Vice-Chancellor of Dravidian University, Kuppam, to function as a fact-finding committee under the chairmanship of Justice G. Bikshapathy to ascertain the factual position as regards the activities of non-Hindu religious communities in Tirumala and Tirupathi and to furnish a report to His Holiness for considering the steps to be taken to prevent undesirable activities of the Christian and other non-Hindu communities.

Some of the family members of the TTD employees such as wife and children are practicing Christian ideology and inviting the pastors to conduct prayers in their homes at Tirumala, the committee found.

In the Rule 198 of APCHR&E Act 1987 the following activities are prohibited at Tirumala:

(A) Carrying and possession of holy books of other religions like Bible, Quran etc. (B) Any kind of propagation of other than Hindu religion by way of distribution of pamphlets, literature, brochures, stickers, banners, flags, including prayers and speeches etc.

Two Christian women belonging to Chilakuluripet were found in the TTD queue complex and they were caught red-handed on 26.4.2006 distributing religious pamphlets to the pilgrims in the queue and were handed over to the Deputy Superintendent of Police at Tirumala by the pilgrims themselves. The Committee was informed that the Vigilance personnel took into custody these two Christian women and produced them before the DSP, Tirumala. The Committee was told that the Special Officer got released those two women after questioning them and arranged special darshan and gave prasadam. When the Committee met the Executive Officer on 22.06.2006, Special Officer Shri Dharma Reddy was present and he told the Committee that those two women came from an old-age home, run by a Christian mission and they stated that as per the wish of some of the inmates of the old-age home who were suffering from AIDS, they came to get prasadam for distributing it to those inmates, and on that representation of the two women, he permitted them to have darshan after signing the requisite declaration and gave them prasadam. No name of the old-age home was disclosed.

It is highly unlikely that a Christian would travel long distance to visit Tirumala to collect prasadam offered by a Hindu religious temple to be given to the inmates of an old-age home run by a Christian mission. The two women did not disclose to the TTD officials concerned before entering the queue complex that they were Christians, and they got into the queue complex without signing the requisite declaration and obtaining permission of the TTD officials concerned.

Two Christians David (pastor) and Kumar were found propagating Christianity in Tirumala and they were handed over to police. The police registered a case and kept them for two days on remand. Those two persons admitted that they committed a mistake. This was also confirmed by the EO, TTD who stated that the two were indulging in religious propaganda. However, strangely the Special Officer, Shri Dharma Reddy, stated that they did not indulge in any Christian propaganda. The two Christians were eventually released without taking any action against them.

On May 21, 2006, Special Officer Shri Dharma Reddy held a press conference in which he stated that no Christian religious propaganda was going on in Tirumala. It is evident that he is not taking a serious view of these objectionable activities of the Christians at the holy place of Tirumala.

Propagation of Christian religion in educational institutions in Tirupathi

Educational institutions at Tirupathi were established on TTD land and with TTD funds. But in the colleges and hostel at Tirupathi, Christian religious propagation is rampant. The Christian students themselves act as propagators. Shri Deva Sangeetham, Principal of S.V. University College, openly indulges in propagating and converting the students to Christianity by making them go to Church, reading the Bible and creating disaffection towards Hindu religion. After Shri Deva Sangeetham has taken charge as Principal, the practice of garlanding the portrait of Lord Venkateswara is stopped.

After Smt. Veena Noble Das took charge as Vice-Chancellor of Padmavathi Mahila University, she got removed the photos of Lord Venkateswara and Goddess Padmavathi from all the institutions of the Mahila University and she also got removed the portrait of Lord Venkateswara from her office and discontinued the practice of garlanding the portraits of Lord Venkateswara and Goddess Padmavathi everyday. Instead she kept a portrait of Jesus Christ and the Cross on her office table. She sends batches of students in the university buses to the church. It is also stated that in the Mahila University, the students are not allowed to have tilak on the forehead now-a-days and that students putting tilak are being discriminated.

Employment in the TTD

Only Hindus are to be appointed as employees in the TTD under the rule. However, the EO stated that for some period this was not followed with the result that some Muslim personnel came to be appointed. He further stated that steps are being taken to shift them to some other places gradually. Some employees in the TTD profess Christianity and that in the police quarters also congregations and prayers are conducted regularly. There are about 40 Christian families residing in Tirumala and they hold religious congregations at their homes on Sundays. It is stated that even in the Annadanam Complex there is an employee, Shri Ananda Raju belonging to Christian community, working as Superintendent. The EO has stated that he will enquire and take action. Another Christian woman works in the electrical department. Gopinath, Garden Superintendent, also belongs to Christian community.

Non-Hindu employees of TTD and their activities

It is brought to the notice of the Committee that many people from Christian and Muslim communities were being employed in the TTD and some of the Hindu employees were even converted as Christians and they practice Christianity. About 40 families in Balaji Colony are Christians. They hold congregations and prayers on Sundays.

The Committee was informed that Gopinath, who was posted on deputation as Garden Superintendent, is a Christian and that he criticises worshipping Lord Venkateswara saying why should a black stone be decorated with garlands, and that he indulges in criticising Hindu Religion.

Considering the above facts and circumstances, the propagation of Christianity with an ulterior motive of conversion is taking place in Tirupathi and Tirumala. Since the EO has categorically assured the Committee that no such incidents will be allowed to take place, the matter has to be reviewed periodically.

Scouts and guides

In the queue complex number of scouts and guides are deployed to regulate the pilgrims. It is understood that details of the religion of the persons who are so engaged is not verified and that some of them belong to non-Hindu communities. The scouts and guides are allowed into the main temple and to have darshan. The Executive Officer has informed the Committee that he would take appropriate measures to prevent non-Hindus being deployed as scouts and guides in Tirumala.

Hawkers and shopkeepers

There are number of hawkers who belong to Muslim community. Two instances are given. Shop Nos. 192 and 72 in the shopping complex are run by Shri Jamal Khadar and Maithri. When this was brought to the notice of EO he assured the Committee that he will look into the matter and take appropriate action. It is also further brought to the notice of the Committee that unauthorised hawkers are taken out of Tirumala by midnight and left in interior Bakrapeta forest area. Even in this process also, mainly Hindus are targeted and Muslims are rarely touched.

Opposite to Lepakshi Emporium, there are about 50 Nepali shopkeepers who are Christians and they also offer prayers on Sundays, reading the Bible and other Christian religious material in Tirumala.

About 40 Muslim shopkeepers also are there in Tirumala. They offer namaz on Fridays in Tirumala. There are also some Muslim hawkers mostly from Kadiri (Ananthapur District).

Dress code and putting tilakam

Even though the EO has stated that dress code and tilakam were prescribed for the employees, these were not being strictly implemented. The Committee impressed upon the EO to implement these strictly.

Other illegal activities in Tirumala

The Committee was informed that various illegal activities both at Tirumala and at Tirupathi are going on, such as sale and consumption of liquor, sale and consumption of meat, flesh trade, gambling etc.

Cow slaughter is taking place in down hill at Tirupathi near D.R. Mahal. The meat is being transported to Tirumala clandestinely.

TTD Kalyana Mandapam at Nagalapuram is being used by the Christians for their prayer congregations and for performance of Christian marriages. Near Sree Rama and Siva Temple in Tirupathi, Christian prayers and propaganda take place by intercepting the Hindu devotees visiting the temples.

The newly constituted Specified Authority in place of the Board of Trustees, (the term of which has expired) is being headed by Shri D. Rosaiah, IAS, who is said to be a Christian.

The Tourism Department is going to take up erection and operation of rope way from Tirupathi to Tirumala. The Tourism Department plans to establish multiplexes, food courts and other entertainment and recreational spots on Tirumala Hills. The Committee feels that in order to facilitate the activities of Tourism Department on the hills, the area of TTD is restricted to two hills covering an area of 27.5 sq.kms.

Division Bench of Andhra Pradesh High Court has observed in a judgment as follows: “ Although there is no documentation available as the origin is lost in antiquity, there is no attempt made before us to question the ownership of the Lord Venkateswara of Seven Hills. This being true and a real concept, the Board of Trustees, the Committee or the Executive Officer are only administrators of the property of Lord Venkateswara. They can have no right of ownership in themselves and they cannot thus decide to do anything against the interest of the right of the owner i.e., in the instant case, Lord Venkateswara. Once the ownership is resolved and the right to administer is deemed to vest as provided under Article 26 of the Constitution of India in the plurality of the devotees and regulated by the provisions of the Act and Rules framed thereunder, no administrator, whether appointed under the Act or otherwise can take liberty to destroy the sanctity and holiness of the Tirumala Tirupathi Devasthanams and domain, as we have already held, extends to all the Seven Hills called ‘ Tirumala’ .”

Earlier the Division Bench in para 3 held as follows:- “ It is not in dispute that pilgrims in thousands and millions in number sometimes visit the temple and there is no day which is not full of activities of the pilgrims and various rituals, poojas and rites of the cult preserved since antiquity and no part of the Seven Hills, except some secular activities which are essential for the service of Lord Venkateswara, is free from religious activities in and around the temple right from the Foot Hills on all sides.”

The Sacred Seven Hills

The Committee is of the considered opinion that restricting the area of TTD to only 21 kms covering two hills, runs counter to the ancient texts and age-old traditions and practices of the temple and that the Hindus always considered Sri Venkateswara as Lord of the Seven Hills and lakhs of devotees climb the Seven Hills with utmost devotion and reverence bare footed chanting the names of Lord Venkateswara. The Committee further feels that opening the Seven Hills to the Tourism

Department will destroy the sanctity, serenity and spirituality of the Seven Hills and will seriously hurt the feelings of the Hindus throughout the country and the world.

Funds of the TTD

Previously Hindu Dharma Parirakshana Samithi was organizing various activities like Harikathas, devotional lectures and concerts in religious music and dance by eminent artists. Now, the name Hindu has been removed and a Dharma Prachara Parishad is in its place which hardly conducts any religious discourses by eminent Hindu spiritual leaders and does not conduct any religious cultural activities by prominent artists. The members of the public further expressed that eminent Hindu spiritual leaders should be invited to give discourses regularly at important places throughout the country and even abroad. They are of the further opinion that contributions of the devotees running into hundreds of crores should be utilised only for Hindu religious and dharmic activities and various service activities in the name of Lord Venkateswara only. The funds should not be diverted to other activities.

The Devasthanam has donated considerable land to a Muslim organisation for construction of a mosque, which has seriously hurt and agitated Hindus, arousing their religious sentiments. Several persons have expressed that more than 35,000 temples in the state are not having any means for performing daily poojas and donating for other religions is wholly unwarranted.

Constitution of TTD Board and the Committee

It is the general view of the public that TTD Board and its Committees should comprise of eminent devout Hindus who have contributed to the development of the Hindu faith and spirituality and government of the day should take the advice of the Hindu dharmacharyas and Hindu spiritual leaders in making such appointments.

Panel submits report on chilukur temple

(The Hindu August 24, 2006)

Chief Minister urged to make report public The Government constituted the committee after devotees resisted the move of the Endowments Department to take over the Chilkur Balaji temple

HYDERABAD: The three-member P.V.R.K.Prasad Committee constituted to look into the controversy regarding the proposed takeover of the Chilkur Balaji temple by the Endowments Department, submitted its report to the Government on August 15.

Temple protection movement convener M.V.Soundararajan, in a representation to Chief Minister Y.S. Rajasekhara Reddy on Tuesday, appealed for making public the report as its outcome was awaited by devotees.

The Government constituted the expert committee after devotees resisted the move of the Endowments Department to take over the Chilkur Balaji temple. The devotees had even moved the Supreme Court.

The apex court maintained that the State Government should take an independent decision on the constitution of the board of trustees to administer the temple.

In light of the Supreme Court clarification, the temple's hereditary priest, Dr. Soundararajan, has appealed to the Government to exempt the temple from the purview of the Endowments Department on the basis of its unique traditions.

AP State will take total control of all mutts

(Deccan chronicle, November 24, 2005)

Hyderabad, Nov. 23: The State government has decided to take absolute control of Hindu mutts. The proposal has been pending for four years. The State government is also considering bringing Hindu religious trusts under its control. The government is planning to amend the AP Endowments Act to enable the endowments commissioner to oversee the day-to-day administration of mutts

Once the Act is amended, 181 mutts will come under the control of the endowments commissioner. According to sources, the law department has vetted the proposed amendment. An ordinance amending the Act is expected after the winter session of the Assembly. Another amendment pertains to scrapping the clause which specifies that only officials above the age of 45 should be appointed as endowments commissioner.

This is being done in the wake of the High Court nullifying the appointment of IAS official J.S.V. Prasad as endowments commissioner, since he did not fulfil the age requirement. Mutts such as Hathiramji of Tirupati, Raghavendra of Mantralaya, Byragi of West Godavari and Gavi in Uravakonda in Anathapur, which have assets worth crores of rupees, would come under the control of the government.

This will strip many "financial powers" of the heads of mutts. For instance, "padu kanukalu" (offerings made to deities of temples run by mutts), will now go into a general account. Earlier, they were considered the property of the mutt head. Sources said the government was also keen on bringing wealthy Hindu religious trusts under its control but was yet to take a concrete decision on the matter.

YSR Endowment Minister declares the take over of 181 Mutts

(Deccan Chronicle, 12th March 2007)

Cuddapah, March 12: The Endowment Minister Shri. Diwakar Reddy A.P. State Govt. has said that the Andhra Government will take over all Temples within the state under its control. Speaking to Reporters here Mr.Reddy said the Government will take a final decision only after consultations with Endowment Board After Ugadi.

Seer visits Hathiramji Mutt

Tirupati, Nov 24, 2006: Swamy Swaroopanandendra Saraswathi of Sarada Peetham, Visakhapatnam, advised the Government to keep its hands off the administration of mutts, peethams and other religious and spiritual centres.

The Peethadhipathi visited the Hathiramji Mutt here and met newly-appointed Mahant Swami Arjun Das on Thursday. The pontiff's statement assumes significance in the context of the Supreme Court verdicts on land worth several crores spread over Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra, which are now free from Government intervention following the apex court's verdict.

Speaking to the media, the pontiff said that the mutts had been endowed with the task of maintaining the well-being of a society and the administration has no right to dictate terms to a religious body. The Supreme Court verdict delivered the message loud and clear that it was not for the Governments to intervene in the administration of religious bodies.

He was took exception to Government's plans to sell off mutt lands on the pretext that they were being grabbed by land mafia. "The mutts can take care of their properties and the Government should extend help from outside," he said.

He congratulated Arjun Das for winning a decades-old suit and setting the path for similar endowments-related cases.

Y S Vivenkananda Reddy occupies Gurukul lands

(The Hindu, March 9, 2007)

Party MLAs stage dharna at Y.S. Vivekananda Reddy's building in Gurukul Trust lands
Party MLAs stage dharna at Chief Minister brother Y.S. Vivekananda Reddy's building in Gurukul Trust lands

- Errabelli, Keshav have heated argument with police
- YSR governing State like his personal fiefdom: Naidu

HYDERABAD: Telugu Desam MLAs staged a demonstration at the building owned by Chief Minister's brother and Kadapa MP Y.S. Vivekananda Reddy in Gurukul Trust lands, near Madhapur, here on Thursday.

Errabelli Dayakar Rao and P. Keshav had a heated argument with the police when the latter thwarted their bid to forcibly enter the premises. After their suspension from the Assembly, the MLAs proceeded to Mr. Reddy's building.

They questioned as to how the police could provide security to the premises that was 'illegally constructed' on trust lands. Mr. Dayakar Rao said that when a TDP delegation visited the place two months ago, it was promised that no fresh construction would be allowed.

But now, the entire building was renovated and leased out to an IT firm. K. Balaramkrishna Murthy, Ch. Ramesh Babu, Devineni Uma Maheswara Rao, G. Sayanna, K. Achan Naidu, P. Lalitha Thomas, B.C. Govindappa, Kodali Sri Venkateswara Rao and former Minister K. Vijayarama Rao were present.

Earlier, TDP president N. Chandrababu Naidu flayed Chief Minister Y.S. Rajasekhara Reddy for "governing the State like his personal fiefdom."

Reacting to the two-day suspension of Telugu Desam members, he said all democratic norms were given a go-by. The Chief Minister's relatives were grabbing lands everywhere using the private armies to threaten farmers, he alleged.

"Anyone opposing the misrule of Dr. Rajasekhara Reddy is being silenced. Cases are being filed against Telugu Desam leaders. The Government is using income-tax raids to silence the Opposition. We shall fight the misrule," he fumed.

Later, Mr. Naidu said that party MLAs and leaders would visit Kadapa and West Godavari districts on a 'fact-finding mission' in the coming two days.

In service of the Lord, yet ignored (The plight of Priests).

(Deccan Chronicle, October 6, 2004)

A V Ramana Dikshitulu, the main archaka of the famed Sri Venkateswara Temple at Tirumala, gets Rs 200 per day as wages for serving the Lord. He only gets this money on the days he performs the rituals. But he is definitely better off compared to thousands of other archakas across the State who lead a hand-to-mouth existence.

Compare this with the salary and perks drawn by the officials of the Tirumala Tirupati Board, mostly on deputation from other government departments. They travel and live luxuriously and have the best of comforts. For many of the archakas, even travel by train is a great luxury. The NTR government's scrapping of hereditary rights way back in 1987 had literally pushed many archakas to the streets. They are now asking for the revival of hereditary rights, which will at least ensure them a modest living. The archakas also want the government to give them endowment lands for cultivation.

"I feel ashamed to reveal my salary," says Dikshitalu, who holds a doctorate in philosophy. "I get Rs 200 per day. Sometimes when I work for 30 days a month I can make Rs 6,000. There are archakas in Tirumala who earn less than Rs 2,000 per month. We are servants of God and we are treated shabbily." Most of the archakas in Tirumala depend on the money given by pilgrims and the meagre share from Arjita Seva tickets.

The archakas of the mutli-crore temple are drawn from members of four traditional archaka families. Government figures themselves narrate the sad tale of thousands of other arch-akas. Out of the 32,000-odd temples across the State, over 27,000 temples have income below Rs 1,000 per annum. So there is no need to talk about the life of archakas in these temples.

"Why are we forced to live like beggars?," asks Dr M V Soundararajan, head priest of Chilkur Balaji Temple. "We have been demanding the restoration of hereditary rights and the lifting of the ban on aarthi, hundi and gifts," he said.

Devotees urged to toe `civil disobedience' line

Temple panel sets June 8 deadline for passing of Endowment Amendment Act

- Asks pilgrims not to put donations in hundis
 - "Don't buy tickets for sevas from temples"

HYDERABAD: The Temples' Protection Committee which organised an 'open debate' here on Saturday on the Endowments Amendment Bill-2007 has called for "a civil disobedience movement" by devotees. It has set June 8 as the deadline for passing the legislation.

M.V. Soudararajan, convener, told The Hindu that the committee would also embark on a plan to take up 'doopa deepa naivedyam' scheme in temples across the State, as envisaged in the Endowments Amendment Bill-2007, since there was uncertainty about its passage after it was referred to the Select Committee on April 9.

"We will give a call to the devotees, as part of civil disobedience movement, to stop donating to 'hundis' and not to purchase tickets for performing 'sevas' in 206 temples State-wide, he said.

The professor-turned archaka of Chilkur temple expressed distress that the bill could not be passed on the last day of the recently concluded session despite assurances by Ministers N. Raghuveera Reddy and P. Lakshmaiah.

Campaign planned

He said the committee would launch a State-wide campaign to educate the people and mobilise their opinion with the intent of pressing its demand for an ordinance replacing the bill. The campaign would take off with the committee organising meetings in Telangana districts. It would culminate with a public meeting at Warangal on May 20 to be attended by legislators of different parties. A similar drive in the Rayalaseema and Andhra regions would follow.

Already, people were organising poojas and conducting bhajans in the Ananta Padmanabha Temple at Devarampalli village in Ranga Reddy district and in Ranganatha Swamy Temple in Warangal. Families were taking turns to prepare food and offering it as `naivedyam' in the temples. This trend will increase, with more devotees following their example, Prof. Soundararajan observed.

TIRUPATHI DECLARATION (against YSR Govt. attempted to take over 5 out of 7
tirumala hills and encouraging conversion activities on Tirumala)

(Tirupathi, July 18 2006)

Swami Dayananda Saraswati
Vishveshwara Theertha Swami

http://www.acharyasabha.org/index.php?option=com_content&task=view&id=27&Itemid=41

The three cardinal Articles of this Historic Declaration:

4. We Hindus assembled here declare that we do not support, directly or indirectly, any group, institution, religion, media, or political force, which preaches, practices or works against Hindu dharma in this country.
5. We appeal to all the Hindus in this country and elsewhere to subscribe to and support this declaration, the Tirupathi declaration.
6. We want all the Hindu religious endowments to be managed by Hindu bodies, and not by the government. We want the secular government to release all religious endowments from its hold.

The following resolutions were also adopted unanimously:

1. Immediate action must be taken to bring under TTD control over 250 sq. kilometre area covering various Theerthams closely associated with the legend of Lord Venkateswara as against the 27.5 sq. kilometres under Andhra Pradesh Government order (G.O.) No.338. In this context, they quoted Mackenzie's manuscript of the year 1801 as per which the Seven Hills extended up to the Swarnamukhi River near Sri Kalahasti in the east, Nagapatala Devarakonda in the west, Yerraguntla Thota in Rayachoti Taluk in the north and Pillari Kanuma near Narayana Vanam in the south. Such a law would ward off any threat of non-Hindu activities on the Seven Hills.
2. Only Hindus by law should be made eligible for appointment in TTD Service.
3. Andhra Pradesh Government should immediately give up its plans to convert Tirumala into a luxury tourist spot.
4. There should be a legal ban on all non-Hindu activities in TTD. medical and educational institutions.
5. TTD funds should be used only for Hindu spiritual activities.
6. The Dharma Prachara Parishad should be renamed as Hindu Dharma Prachara Parishad.

Speaking on the prohibition of non-Hindu appointments in TTD, the Swamijis urged that immediate steps should be taken to deport 40 Christian employees and other non-Hindus at Tirumala.

The Swamijis alleged that the TTD's medical and educational institutions have become centres of proselytisation by non-Hindus. They demanded that the Devasthanam should punish those non-Hindus indulging in such evangelical activities and identify the TTD and State Government Officials encouraging them directly or indirectly and to transfer them from Tirupati forthwith.

The TTSS also charged TTD with diverting devotees' offerings to other activities owing to Government political pressure. 'These offerings made by Hindu devotees were meant for running temples, conducting religious festivals and providing pilgrim amenities and propagating Hindu Dharma. They are not meant for the evangelization programmes of Andhra Pradesh Government under a Christian Chief Minister,' they said.

The TTSS also expressed its deep concern over the increase in evangelical activities at Tirumala and Tirupati and cited the documentary evidence adduced by the Five Member Fact Finding Committee appointed by the Pontiff of Pejawar with Justice Bikshapathi, former High Court Judge as its head.

The meet also cited High Court Ruling which said: 'The rights of Tirumala-Tirupati vest with Lord Venkateswara himself and the Trust Board and the EO are only trustees of the property. None can take any measures violating the right. All the Seven Hills fall under Tirumala (W.P. No. 26145 of 1996-97(2) and 59 (DB) dated 7.9.1996).

In conclusion, Pejawar Swamiji categorically told media persons that the Members of the TTSS fervently hope that their legitimate demand would be acted upon before 9 August, 2006 and that further action by the TTSS would be decided after ascertaining the nature, intention and direction of Government response.

A host of other influential Swamijis from different parts of India including Varada Ramanuja Jeeyar from Uttar Pradesh and Members of the Tirupati Fact Finding Committee, T S Rao, former Director General of Police, R. Srihari, former Vice Chancellor of the Dravidian University, Krishniah, State Backward Classes Welfare Leader and other prominent persons also attended the meeting. Several thousand Devotees deeply concerned about the need for protecting the Seven Hills and the Tirupati Temple joined in the call.

Seven Hills cover 250, not 27 sq km

(New Indian Express, Sunday July 16 2006 12:08 IST)

TIRUPATI: The Tirumala Tirupati Samrakshana Samithi (TTSS) on Saturday demanded a law declaring Tirumala as comprising all the Seven Hills covering 250 sq km before August 9 coinciding with the Sravana Poornima festival, to safeguard the sanctity and serenity of Tirumala-Tirupati.

A meeting of the samithi held here in the presence of a host of swamijis, including Visveswara Theertha of Pejavar Math and Dayanand Saraswathi, adopted five resolutions unanimously, including bringing under TTD control over 250 sq km covering various theerthams closely associated with the legend of Lord Venkateswara as against the 27.5 sq km under GO No 338.

The resolutions said quoting Mackenzie's manuscript of the year 1801 that the Seven Hills extended up to the Swarnamukhi river near Srikalahasti in the east, Nagapatala Devarakonda in the west, Yerraguntla Thota in Rayachoti Taluq in the north and Pillari Kanuma near Narayanavanam in the south. The swamijis and other religious leaders felt that such a law would ward off any threat of non-Hindu activities on the Seven Hills.

The samithi's other resolutions are: appointment of only Hindus in TTD service, giving up plans to convert Tirumala into a luxury tourist spot, ban on non-Hindu activities in TTD medical and educational institutions and using TTD funds only for spiritual activities.

Speaking on prohibiting non-Hindu appointments in TTD, the swamijis urged immediate steps to deport the 40 Christian employees and any other non-Hindus at Tirumala.

The swamijis alleged that TTD's medical and educational institutions had become centres of proselytisation by non-Hindus. They demanded that the Devasthanams punish those indulging in such activities and identify the officials encouraging them directly or indirectly and transfer them.

The samithi charged TTD with diverting devotees' offerings to other activities, bowing to government pressure. The offerings were meant for running temples, conducting religious festivals and providing pilgrim amenities and propagating Hindu dharma. It also wanted the Dharma Prachara Parishad to be renamed Hindu Dharma Prachara Parishad.

Later, the swamijis went in procession from Thyagaraja Mandapam, the venue of the meeting, to the TTD administrative building where a copy of the resolution was handed over to TTD Joint Executive Officer J Balaramaiah.

The Pejawar Swamiji told mediapersons that the mutt chiefs hoped their demands would be acted on before August 9 and TTSS would decide on its future action after that.

YSR Government, eyeing TTD funds for Jala-Yagnam

(Just Andhra, March 22, 2006)

Hyderabad: The fund starved YSR Government, to support its prestigious Jalayagnam, is now eyeing on cash rich Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam. The TTD has about Rs.15,00 crores of reserve funds. Andhra Pradesh government is contemplating with an idea to barrow Rs.500 crores from TTD by issuing irrigation bonds. But the rules prevailing does not permit so.

To overcome this situation government is planning to enact law in assembly to enable it to draw funds required for jalayagnam. But the official and parties are opposing the move. The congress MLAs are in fear of public outcry against the move. The political parties are ready to launch a scathing attack on government, if it does so.

The TTD funds are to be used to serve the destitute, or for spread of spiritual knowledge pertaining to Hinduism, opined a TTD member. However government is overcautious on this and don't want to take any hasty decision.

AUCTION OF MANDIR LAND (Eenadu, March 30, 2006)

7000 ACRES IN PHASE I. SALE TO FETCH Rs. 20,000 CRORES.

GREEN FLAG BY THE CHIEF MINISTER. PROCESS TO START IN APRIL:

HYDERABAD: NEWSTODAY

Even though numerous Mandirs in the State have no one to light Deepam, some have plenty of landed properties. State Government has decided to sell off such lands located in the urban areas. In the first phase 7000 acres of lands located in other States will be sold. From this the Government is trying to raise Rs. 20,000 crores. Government says such sale proceeds will be deposited by them in the accounts of the respective Mandirs and see that the interest will be put at their disposal for their expenditure. However, Government sources themselves are not ruling out the possibility of diverting such liquid amounts to irrigation or some such projects.

Chief Minister YS has reviewed the proposal to sell the Mandir Lands on Wednesday, in the presence of Endowments Minister J.C.Diwakar Reddy. J.C.Diwakar Reddy told the newspersons that the CM has ordered to sell Mandir lands in 'open auction'. It is now known that in Hyderabad city itself about 2000 acres of land would be sold and in similar scale, lands of Simhachalam Devasthanam located in Visakhapatnam District too would be sold. The lands listed for auction include lands near Tirupathi and Vijayawada. It is simultaneously decided to regularize the sale of Ghatkesar Trust lands of Hyderabad sold some time ago as per the market rate. Several VIPs including Hero Nagarjuna feature in the people who purchased the above lands. This Trust still has a land of 300 acres. Government wants to auction these lands too. However, it is noteworthy to see that Revenue Department claims this land is their property since they recognized it as 'surplus land'.

Endowments Department has 180,000 acres in the State of which 30,000 acres are located in the Urban areas. Along with these, lands too are there in other States. In the past, Guntur Amaravathi Devasthanam's Sadavarthi Chowltry has donated 450 acres on the Mahabalipuram Road, prime place of Chennai. People have built permanent buildings on 300 acres of this donated land. The encroached lands were identified with the help of Tamil Nadu Government and regularize as per the market rate. Remaining 150- acres would be auctioned off. A delegation led by Diwakar Reddy is going to Chennai to discuss the issue there. In the middle of Bangalore's Basavanagudi, 12 acres is situated. Of this, 6 acres is under encroachment and remaining part with Endowments Department. Encroachments shall be regularized and remaining lands auctioned off. There are lands in Mumbai too and they too would be hived off.

Official sources told the sale process would begin in a month's time. When our correspondent asked if Committees would oversee the auction process, JC said no such need is there. Apart from this, for encroachments at District level, District Collector shall be the Chairman, Executive Officer of the concerned Mandir, Vice-Chairman/Municipal Commissioner of the concerned place and Police Commissioner of the District would constitute the members of the Committee. He also said that Government would approach the High Court for permission in view of the interim stay imposed by it is pending.

State puts divine property up for sale (Deccan Chronicle , April 8, 2006)

Over 6,000 acres of urban lands belonging to the “ gods” are being put up for auction by the endowments department. This decision was taken after the department realised that land sharks had no fear of the gods and were grabbing even “ divine” property. After the endowments department expressed its inability to protect the lands, the government gave the green signal for the auction.

In Hyderabad district alone, temples under the endowment department own 4,559 acres of land. Similarly, Sri Narasimha Swamy temple at Simhachalam in Visakhapatnam has 400 acres in urban areas while Hathiram Matam at Tirumala has about 100 acres. The department has already auctioned 9,201 acres of temple lands in rural areas.

“It has become increasingly difficult to protect prime land in urban areas from land sharks,” said A.B. Krishna Reddy, commissioner of the endowments department. “We approached the government and it agreed to the disposal of such lands in open auction.” Mr Krishna Reddy added that the department expected substantial revenue from the sale of lands. “The amount will certainly be huge,” he said. “In places such as Hyderabad, land prices are very high.”

For the present, the endowments department is only planning to auction urban lands. The endowments department owns 3,76,376 acres of land in the State out of which 94,136 acres are wetland and 2,248,136.06 acres are dry land. The department gets an annual income of Rs 62.43 crores through lease of 1,62,829 acres. About 6,124 acres of endowment lands are caught in legal wrangles. “We will also auction 22 acres of prime land belonging to Kashi Visweshwara Swamy temple in Prakasam district,” said Mr Krishna Reddy.

Indiramma: temple land takeover stayed

(The Hindu, May 31, 2006)

HYDERABAD: A Division Bench of the High Court comprising Justice L. Narasimha Reddy and Justice Appa Rao on Tuesday restrained the Government from taking possession of the temple lands in the State in the name of house sites for the Indiramma scheme.

The bench was dealing with two separate writ petitions filed by functionaries of Devalaya Parirakshana Samithi and A.P. Archaka Parishad.

The petitioners brought to the notice of the court various judgements, interim orders of the High Court delivered on earlier occasions pertaining to taking over of the temple lands by the Government in the name of house sites.

It was brought to the notice of the court that in East Godavari district Rs. 8 crores had been due to temples since 1996 for the lands acquired.

The petitioners complained that in the last three weeks the Collectors of East and West Godavari districts had issued 91 notifications seeking to take over hundreds of acres of temple lands though the Commissioner of Endowments told them that appropriate clarifications and permission had to be obtained from the High Court.

The Devalaya Parirakshana Samiti challenged the constitutional validity of Section 80 of the Endowments Act, which authorises the Government to permit sale of temple lands.

The bench did not appreciate the hasty action of the district Collectors and directed issuance of notices to them taking serious note of their action.

Temple land lease scam in Andhra Pradesh

(Eenadu, April 23, 2007)

Temple properties

A temple in Tenali, Guntur (dist) owns a movie theater, it has been leased to some powerful people for last 30 years for Rs 30,000/- per year. They then subleased the same theatre for Rs. 13,000,00 per year. The above lease is about to expire, the current powerful lease holders are trying to continue the same lease without any auction with the help of a district minister.

Sitaramachandraswami temple in Ammapalli, near Hyderabad owns 200 acres of fertile land, worth many crores, you know how much lease the temple earns a year from these lands, and it is mere 2 lakhs.

Lakshmi Venkateswara temple in Kakinada own around 800 acres of Land, 400 acres of this leased for cultivation occupy coconut trees, the temple get paid Rs 26/- per acre, another 400 acres used to for rice, the temple gets mere 2 or 3 sacks of rice.

Venakateswara Swami temple in Old Alwar, Rangareddy dist, owned land of 68 acres, the corrupt politicians administrators sold 64 acres and pocketed the money themselves, the Lord Venkateswara left with 4 acres of land.

Lakshmi Narasimhaswami temple in Banjara Hills, Hyderabad had 48 acres of land, which is occupied corrupt land grabbers, now the temple cannot even afford money for daily expenses for the service of the Lord.

These are the some cases, thousands of temple properties been leased by powerful people for nominal amounts, then they sublease for a big profit. The government of Andhra Pradesh recognized the temple in the state own 4.2 lakh acres of land out of which 1.11 lakh acres of land leased for income of 43 crores a year, another one lakh acres is under occupied cultivation by powerful people with the help of politicians and corrupt officials.

Thousands of acres of temple land in cities & town are already occupied by powerful land grabbers. Now, the temple cannot afford the daily service of the GOD, they cannot afford the maintenance, or cannot afford to pay the temple priests.

No Action

The responsible officials are just ignoring, the politicians, senior officials are under political pressure and bribes are helping the land grabbers, leasing the temple properties to everyone on nominal amount, who then sublease them to make big profit. No one is caring for welfare of the temples.

Amendment to endowment Law

TRS MLA Mandadi Satyanarayana Reddy criticized the endowment department saying "the endowment department officials who need to take care of temple property and temples are only interested in making money, these officers or the department never tried to spread the Dharma"

State puts divine property up for sale (Deccan Chronicle, April 8, 2006)

Temple lands ready for sale (3,000 acres in East Godavari District)

(Deccan Chronicle, March 14, 2006)

Deccan Chronicle <http://www.deccan.com/> Rajahmundry, March 14:

The Endowments department will be going for an open auction of its lands to the tune of 3,000 acre from April to June in East Godavari district to safeguard temple lands and improve its sources of revenue. Addressing a meeting of officials here on Tuesday, Endowments assistant commissioner B. Venkataswamy said that they had auctioned 50 per cent temple lands in the district, raising revenue to the tune of Rs 2 crore, based on the Supreme Court's judgment with regard to the Tenancy Act especially for the State.

He directed the temple officials to make efforts on a war footing to auction the remaining 50 per cent lands in the next three months and said that they could fulfill the ideals of donors by doing so. He asked the officials to give exemption to farmers who had taken about 2.5 acre land on lease in delta areas and those who had taken five acre of land on lease in upland areas as they were landless poor. He directed them to carry out open auction of lands which did not fall under these categories.

He asked them to maintain a property register without fail. He warned of stern action against the officials if they resort to any lapses while auctioning temple lands. Referring to the two bomb blasts at Varanasi recently, he asked executive officers to maintain strict security at temples by appointing security guards to keep round the clock vigil. He advised them to take police help to ensure safety to devotees, especially at important temples in the district.

AP Temple land auction (by YSR Govt.) nets 1.10-crore revenue by auctioning 3,048 acres in record time. (THE HINDU, July 3, 2005)

Staff Reporter

<http://www.hindu.com/2005/07/03/stories/2005070306390300.htm>

RAJAHMUNDY: In a record time, the Endowments Department has auctioned 3,048 acres of temple land in the district, through which it netted a revenue of Rs. 1.10 crores.

The department is likely to get more revenue by auctioning the remaining 2,000 acres, the process of which is in progress.

The Assistant Commissioner of Endowments, B. Venkataswamy, said on Friday that there was 18,300 acres of endowments land in the district, out of which 11,914 was wetland.

Repeated negotiations with farmers by the department officials and follow-up action to the eviction notices had resulted in enhancement of lease and also good result in public auctions.

He, however, said the department was facing problem in convincing some tenants of Laxinarasimhaswamy Temple in Antarvedi.

The Assistant Commissioner wrote to higher authorities to settle the tangle.

Nothing wrong in selling vacant temple lands: Reddy

(Andhra Pradesh News, April 20, 2007)

Visakhapatnam, Apr 20: Andhra Pradesh Endowments Minister J C Diwakar Reddy today said there was nothing wrong in selling the vacant temple lands.

Talking to newsmen after offering prayers at Sri Varahanrusimha Swamy temple here on the occasion of 'Chandanotsavam,' he said the government had decided to auction the lands as the Endowment department was not generating any income from it.

Stating that the department was facing an uphill task to safeguard the temple lands, the Minister said the money garnered from the sale would be deposited in the banks to provide better facilities to the devotees visiting the shrine.

The Simhachalam Devasthanam officials have prepared a plan to auction 400 acres of temple lands, he added.

Sharks eat up God's land, Hyderabad Deccan Chronicle on the web, Sept. 9,2006

<http://multifaith.blogspot.com/2006/09/could-jesus-have-sinned-faith-wise.html>

Gods too are under threat from predatory land sharks, if one goes by the encroachment of temple lands in the State. It seems land grabbers are not afraid of divine wrath. Be it the fiery Varaha Laxmi Narasimhaswamy of Simhachalam or the serene Lord Ram in Bhadrachalam, all deities and their dwellings are fair game for them.

Of the 4,20,028 acres of temple lands owned by the endowments department in Visakhapatnam, Kakinada, Guntur, Kurnool, Warangal and Hyderabad, 60,843.47 acres are under illegal occupation and 24,349.66 acres are caught in litigations of various kinds. Major temples whose lands are under encroachment include Jagannadhaswamy Balaji Mutt in Ramayapatnam (54 acres), Dharmatopu temple in Tangutur (5.17 acres), Sri Ramalingeswaraswamy temple of Chimakurthy (2.05 acres), and Sri Lakshmi Narasimhaswamy temple in Peddadornala (13.41 acres).

Apart from this, lands belonging to Nageswaraswamy temple in Tangutur, Sri Madana Gopalaswamy temple in Chirala and Sri Lakshmi Chennakeshavaswamy temple in Markapuram have also been encroached upon. Agriculture lands constitute 3,49,359 acres of the total endowments lands, while forest lands amount to 27,213 acres. Encroachment of endowment lands is highest in Warangal with 19,228.12 acres followed by Visakhapatnam with 14, 858.77 acres and Hyderabad with 12,122.85 acres.

Not all encroachers are professional land grabbers. Some are poor Dalits who have built dwellings in these lands. But the majority consists of “invisible” bigwigs with political clout. The government has initiated action against several encroachers and has succeeded in removing them from endowment lands. But several have pre-empted the government by moving court. “We are trying our best to check encroachments in temple lands,” said endowments commissioner Dinesh Kumar. “But the properties are huge and staff strength is low.”

The government also tried to regularise some of the lands, but the High Court recently put a stop to it and asked it to dispose of its lands through public auction if necessary. “But the fact remains that auction can be conducted only if the lands are free from encroachments,” pointed an endowments official. In East Godavari, about 6.37 acres of wet land and 585.17 acres of dry land owned by the endowments department is under unauthorised occupation or caught in legal disputes.

Thanks to an HC stay on acquisition of endowments land, the Indiramma housing scheme for the poor has also come to a halt here. Meanwhile, endowments officials in Khammam are fighting a bitter battle to recover 1,835 acres of encroached lands including 906 acres belonging to the Sita Ramachandraswamy Temple at Bhadrachalam. Mr V.S.C.V. Subba Rao, assistant commissioner of endowments in Ongole, said that 135.46 acres owned by the department was under illegal occupation. “ We have filed cases against some encroachers,” he said.

Religious conversion in AP police station

(Eenadu, April 11,2007)

Christian literature on the walls
Victims are forced to read Bible
Police inspector attacks the journalists

Newstoday, Hyderabad, Begumpet: Police who are supposed to protect the people, law and order are fast becoming the centres of controversy and creating troubles. The proof is events ongoing on in Begumpet Police station. The police here have converted this police station into a platform for Christian teaching and Christian religious conversion. The walls in this police station are covered with verses from Bible. The victims who approach this police station are forced to read bible.

Police case if you don't read the bible verses

Normally women victims of domestic violence approach this police station. Under normal circumstances, both the victim and husband and counselled to comprise and come to an understanding and only if the counselling fails a case is registered. But in this police station the procedure is totally different. Victims who approach the police station for help are forced to read the bible verses written on the walls. The abuser or defendent is called to the station and forced to read bible. They are warned with rigorous punishment if they disobey. The police are achieving their wish by threatening severe mauling.

Inspector abuses media people

Responding to complaints from victims various TV channels including ETV-Eenadu visited the police station on tuesday. The inspector G R Reddy started abusing newspeople who were video recording the writings on the walls and interviewing victims. While abusing the newsmen with foul language pushing away the cameras he said " Shoot whatever you want. I will remove my shirt, I will remove my pant. shoot it!" He immediately got the walls whitewashed.

Vice Chancellor of Padmavathi University should be removed demands BJP

(Andhra Jyothy, March 30, 2007 Page 8 of Hyderabad supplement)

BJP legislator Kishan Reddy submitted a memorandum to state Governor Rameshwar Thakur demanding removal of Veena Nobel Das as Vice Chancellor of the University as she is forcing Christian religious conversion in the University and also responsible for the death of a student. On Thursday several BJP leaders joined the MLA and submitted the events in writing. Speaking to reporters on this occasion Mr. Kishan Reddy said that since the appointment of Veena Nobel Das as Vice Chancellor she has been forcing the students directly and indirectly to convert to Christianity.

The Vice Chancellor went even to the extent of threatening the students with failure in the examinations if they did not convert. During this process a student named Uma Maheshwari a M.Sc. student belonging to Jammalamudu of Cuddapah district, who was forced to convert, committed suicide as she was unable to bear the mental agony caused by religious conversion. The Vice Chancellor has immediately confiscated and kept confidential the student's suicide note. BJP leaders Kishan Reddy, S Malla Reddy and Vijayanand claimed that the Governor promised to hold an inquiry on this issue.

Her name should be removed MLC list

Veena Nobel Das being successful in getting foreign funds to convert students in University, the Chief Minister Y S Rajasekhar Reddy is trying to nominate her to legislative council under Governor's quota alleged the BJP leaders. The leaders requested the Governor not to nominate Veena Nobel Das under any circumstances as that would vitiate the social and communal harmony.

Tirupati: Uma Maheshwari's Suicide - Why are officials silent?

(Eenadu, March 15, 2007)

Newstoday, Tirupati

Events raise more suspicion

Ms. Uma Maheshwari's suicide confirms the allegations that Christian missionary activity and conversions are going on unabated in Padmavathi Women's University. It has been confirmed that for the past few months Uma Maheshwari has been participating in Christian religious activity. It seems that the victim and some other women students used to spend all their time discussing about Christianity while avoiding contact with non-Christians. Some students confirmed that every Sunday two preachers visit their hostel. Recently the hostel management has been handed over to a firm whose employees are all Christian. It seems that these employees were involved in Christian preaching inside the hostel.

Why officials are not revealing the contents of suicide note?

Hostel students demanded the management to reveal the reasons for Uma Maheswari's suicide. Students demanded the authorities to reveal the contents of the suicide note. Officials concealing the suicide note is raising the suspicion that suicide note contains specific reasons and might reveal names. Veena Noble Das, the Vice Chancellor of the University was always in controversy for forcing students to convert to Christianity.

Why are her room mates missing?

Uma Maheshwari has 3 other room mates who are missing since the day incident happened. Officials had to bite dust when students demanded to see the other three room mates. Officials mentioned that they are in the lab but it seems that they are staying at a senior official's home. Questions are raised on why these three students are moved away from hostel and not allowed to speak to anybody.

In a related development 22 leaders of BJYM, AVBP and BJP leaders are arrested under non-bailable warrant for staging a dharna outside the University premises. The protestors seem to have damaged the official car used by Ms. Veena Noble Das, the Vice Chancellor of the University.

Make Waqf-like board for Hindu religious bodies: HC

Press Trust of India

Allahabad, June 6, 2006

http://www.hindustantimes.com/news/181_1714562,000900010004.htm

Hindustan Times

The Allahabad High Court on Tuesday asked the Centre and Uttar Pradesh to prepare a scheme for constitution of a Board for Hindu religious organisations on the pattern of the UP Muslim Waqf Board. Passing the order, Justice SN Srivastava said the Board so constituted shall be an autonomous body and it will register all such religious and charitable establishments and endowments according to the norms represented by mutts, monasteries, temples and religious and charitable trusts or societies, as the case may be, through their heads.

The Centre as well as the state government may also frame schemes for providing minimum wages and other welfare measures for those working in temples, the court added.

The judgement was passed on a writ petition filed by Shree Satya Narain Tulsi Manas Mandir at Varanasi.

The court said that the schemes so framed may be placed before the court on September nine. The court was of the view that though provisions of Minimum Wages Act were not applicable to temple as it is not an industry, fair wages cannot be denied merely on the ground that the establishment or institution is of a religious or charitable nature or that persons who are engaged are 'sevadars' or employees at the pleasure of management.

The Answer

1. We demand repealing Endowments Act and let Hindus manage their temples as guaranteed by the constitution of India
2. Have the Hindu community appoint a committee, nominated by Acharya Sabha, Dharma Sansad , etc. to oversee the Endowment Department to ensure transparency, protection of temple lands and proper utilization of their revenues till the formation of a Hindu Board.
3. Constitute a Waqf like Hindu Board , as decreed by the Allahabad High Court, for overseeing the management of Hindu religious institutions.

We demand Government to be secular, sensitive and tolerance towards Hindu feelings

In the End...
We will conserve only
what we love,
We will love only what
we understand,
And, we will understand
only what we are taught.
